

TOP 20 VIRTUAL STARTUP & TECH EVENTS

IN TIMES OF COVID-19 CRISIS

MAY 2020 - SEPTEMBER 2020

With in-person events cancelled or postponed for the foreseeable future across Europe and across the world, Europe's startups are looking for other ways to connect, promote their business and learn from experts.

We recently asked 30 of Europe's leading startup and technology events what they expect for the event scene in Europe. Around 70% said they are not expecting in-person events to be on again until Q4 of 2020 or later. It's safe to say we all expect to be confined to online events for the time being.

But it's not all doom and gloom. Although online events don't offer the traditional opportunities for on-the-spot networking, they do have other benefits. Saving money from travel and accommodation, the ability to hop in and out of a session easily without physically walking long distances between rooms, jumping in during your normal working day to listen to a unique session, having recorded materials to listen to again when you want, and, if you are really pushed for time, it's even possible to watch 2 sessions at once!

With this in mind, we've come up with a list of 20 cool online events aimed at startups happening over the next few months. Some are big events that have gone online, and others have sprung up recently as a way to help people network and connect at this time.

We're also releasing some related content if you're thinking of holding your own online event: 10 digital tools to help you host your next online event and Tips on how to plan a successful online event.

So, we hope you find this list useful and are looking forward to seeing you next year for our in person EU-Startups Summit on April 29-30. Until then, grab your headphones, a cup of coffee or tea (your choice!) and dive into these online events.

Greetings to you from sunny Barcelona,
The EU-Startups team
